JULIA GLIDDEN, MANAGING DIRECTOR, 21C CONSULTANCY, THE UNITED-KINGDOM

Dr. Julia Glidden (Managing Director, 21c Consultancy Ltd) completed her D.Phil. in International Relations at Oxford University, and has extensive experience working with public administrations across Europe to improve service delivery. An internationally recognised expert in e-Government, Dr. Glidden used a keynote address at the 5th Ministerial Conference in Malmö and the launch of the Slovenian Presidency to champion the importance of Web 2.0 technologies in the co-design and co-production of citizen-centred public services. Dr. Glidden has authored numerous articles on this subject, including a Council of Europe sponsored volume on eParticipation. In 2010 Dr. Glidden worked with the Flemish eGovernment Authority to draft 'The Citadel Statement' – a pan-European agenda for local eGovernment that represented the views of over 120 participants from 18 countries across Europe, including 64 organisations representing over 200 cities on five continents. Building on this initiative, Dr. Glidden helped to found 'Citadel on the Move', a flagship project of the European Commission aiming to combine Open Access Data and Mobile Application tools to create 'smart,' innovative citizen-generated services that can be used in differing European Cities.

Dr. Glidden is regularly asked to speak on eGovernment at forums around the world. She is a guest lecturer at the European Institute of Public Administration in Maastricht, a member of the Scientific Committees for the Global Forum, Eastern European eGovernment Days, CeDem Conference and the annual Bled eConference. In addition, Julia has been retained by the European Commission as an official EU project evaluator, and is regularly invited to participate in and Chair juries for eGovernment competitions, including the Bahrain eGovernment Excellence Awards, the Issy Molineaux World eGov Forum competition in France, and forthcoming Scandinavian innovation in eGovernment competition in Stockholm.

ANDREW D. LIPMAN, PARTNER, BINGHAM MCCUTCHEN, USA

Andrew Lipman has spent more than 30 years developing the firm's Telecommunications, Media and Technology Group into one of the largest practices of its kind in the nation. He practices in virtually every aspect of communications law and related fields, including regulatory, transactional, litigation, legislative and land use. The TMT Group is international in scope, representing clients in the U.S., Central and South America, Europe, Asia and other parts of the world.

Andy represents clients in both the private and public sectors, including those in the areas of local, long distance and international telephone common carriage; Internet services and technologies; conventional and emerging wireless services; satellite services; broadcasting; competitive video services; telecommunications equipment manufacturing; and other high-technology applications. In addition, Andy has managed privatizations of telecommunications carriers in Europe, Asia and Latin America.

Andy has been involved in nearly every new legal and regulatory policy at the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), at state public service commissions, in Congress and before courts to open the U.S. local telephone market to competition. He also helped shape crucial provisions of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 and has used similar approaches to promote the opening of foreign markets. He also obtained one of the first competitive local service and interconnection agreements in continental Europe and the first competitive fiber network application in Japan. Andy's expansive practice includes the strategic analysis of companies' telecom user agreements, including renegotiating existing agreements, and when necessary, negotiating new, more favorable telecom user agreements.

For nearly a decade, while maintaining his partnership at the firm, Andy also served as senior vice president, legal and regulatory affairs, for MFS Communications, the nation's largest competitive local services provider. One of the founders of MFS, Andy helped guide the company from start-up to its eventual sale for $14.4 billion to WorldCom.

A frequent author and speaker on telecommunications related topics, Andy has published over 170 articles and is the author of five books, including two Dow Jones books on telecommunications. He has appeared as a commentator on National Public Radio, C-SPAN, Bloomberg News Network and ABC News. In addition, he has served on the editorial advisory boards of Phillips Publishing Company, Internet Law and Regulation, Telecommunications Alert, Telecommunications Reports, Telecommunications Regulatory Monitor and The Satellite Compendium. Andy also served as general counsel to the International Teleconferencing Association and as legislative/regulatory counsel to the International Satellite Users Association. He sits on the board of directors of five public companies trading on the NYSE, NASDAQ and Toronto Stock Exchange.

Andy is co-founder and the first chairman of the Association of Local Telecommunication Services (ALTS), the national trade association for competitive telecommunications carriers.

Prior to entering private practice, Andy participated in the legal honors program at the U.S. Department of Transportation and served in the Office of the Secretary of Transportation. He also served as an extern law clerk to Justice Raymond Sullivan of the California Supreme Court.
