Winning against cyber attackers?

- A company or a governmental organization is complex by nature:
  - Different Business Units in different countries
  - Different activities
  - Different regulations (national & by sector)
  - Different cultures
  - Unaligned security initiatives and projects
  - Untrained employees, including acquisition officers
- How to implement a structured and efficient cybersecurity framework in such a complex environment?
- EADS experience:
  - We are constantly attacked
  - We need a consistent cybersecurity master plan over all divisions, all countries, all regulations,...
