To deploy digital technology against climate change

The Smart City has the ambition to be:

- A city that cares about its environment
- Able to avoid congestion of its transport infrastructure
- Aware of its consumption (water, energy),
- and equipped with means of communication facilitating citizens' access to all services

Smart Grids to save energy in cities

Data can radically change the way we move in cities

Is this really how you imagine the Cities of tomorrow?

« houses make a City, but citizens make the urban»
